- ❖ LISTEN: It has been 56 years since civil-rights activist, James Baldwin, and founder of the conservative National Review, William F. Buckley, Jr., met for a debate on race in America. It still resonates today.

- ❖ VISIT AND SUPPORT: THE (UN)KNOWN PROJECT led by Hannah Drake and Josh Miller, located at the Ohio River between 8th & 9th streets. Just a short walk from where the Belle of Louisville is wharved. Consider donating to this powerful work.

- ❖ WATCH: SUMMER OF SOUL on Hulu or in the theatre! The music, the culture, the style, and history will astound you. Vox writes: “Summer of Soul deftly weaves the mood of the time and the long history of Black expression through music into this one moment, and it practically explodes off the screen.”

- ❖ CONNECT: Share an anti-racist article or video on your social media and invite discussion.

- ❖ CONNECT: MVMT Community Fellowship! Stachelle Bussey, founder of The Hope Buss and newly ordained minister, has founded a new congregation, united through shared values and/or experiences during the Breonna Taylor protests. Their motto: Love. Liberty. Louisville. Next meeting July 18th, 6 PM, 101 S. 44th. Enter through the Main St door. From the first service, 502 livestreamer Tara Basset writes, "Pastor Stachelle Bussey rocked our worlds!"

- ❖ READ: Derrick Johnson's (NAACP President) article, "Protecting voting rights is the only way to make US government work for the people." in The Guardian. <https://bit.ly/36mQ2I6>
- ❖ VISIT AND SUPPORT: Roots 101 African American Museum, 124 N 1st St, Louisville. (Walking distance to THE (UN)KNOWN PROJECT.) Consider donating to this important museum. <https://roots-101.org/>
- ❖ LISTEN: To episode 10 from "The Reckoning, 'My Old Kentucky Home.'" If you live in Kentucky, it is hard to avoid hearing the state song, "My Old Kentucky Home." But it is a song with a lot of historical baggage relating to the legacy of slavery and Jim Crow in Kentucky.

- ❖ SUPPORT/CONNECT: Let us know how you're doing, which of these activities speaks to you, what you'd like to see more of. Send us an article or podcast you find important. Send thoughts on current anti-racism issues. We love hearing from you.
